

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard.

However, if Sinclair Broadcasting follows through with their plan to show this clearly one-sided, political advertisement, I in the interest of equal time I demand that Sinclair be required to air a complementary documentary such as Fahrenheit 9/11 for the other side. Thank you.
